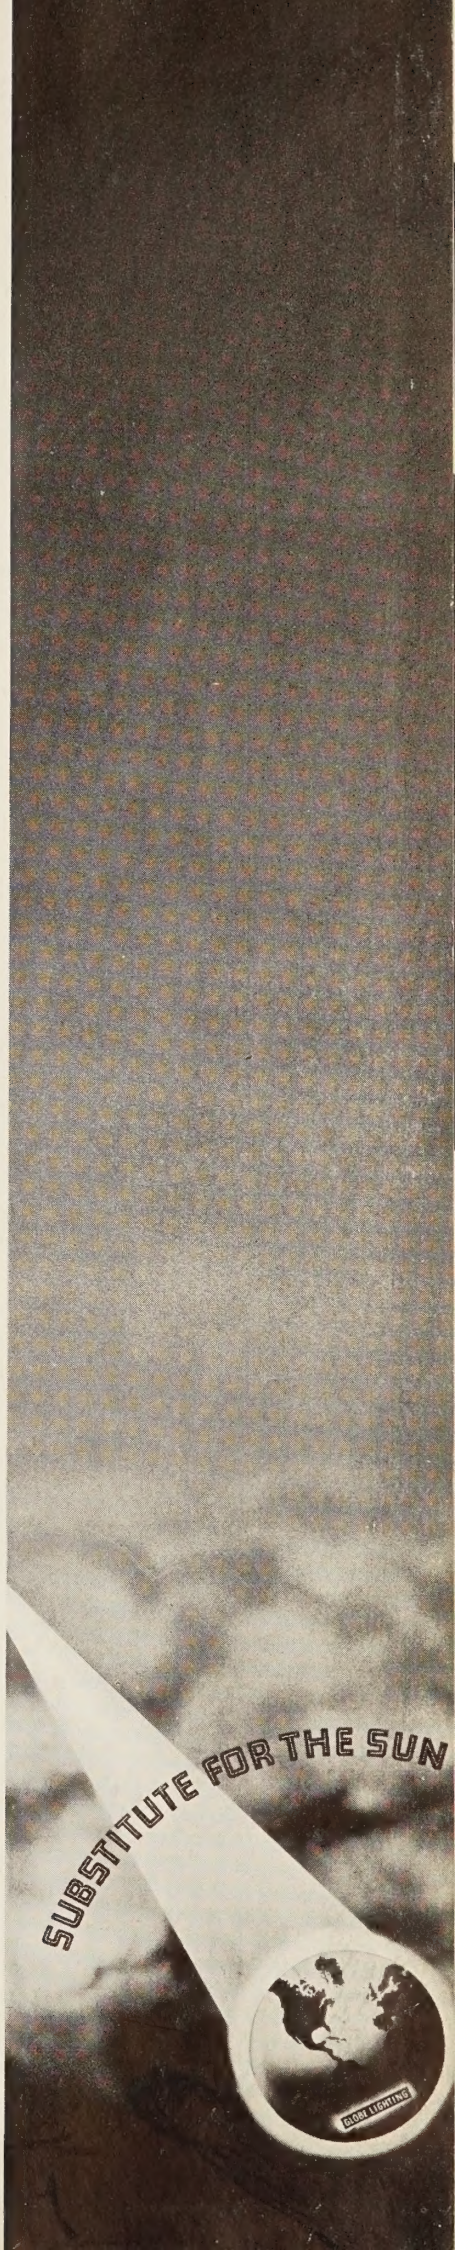
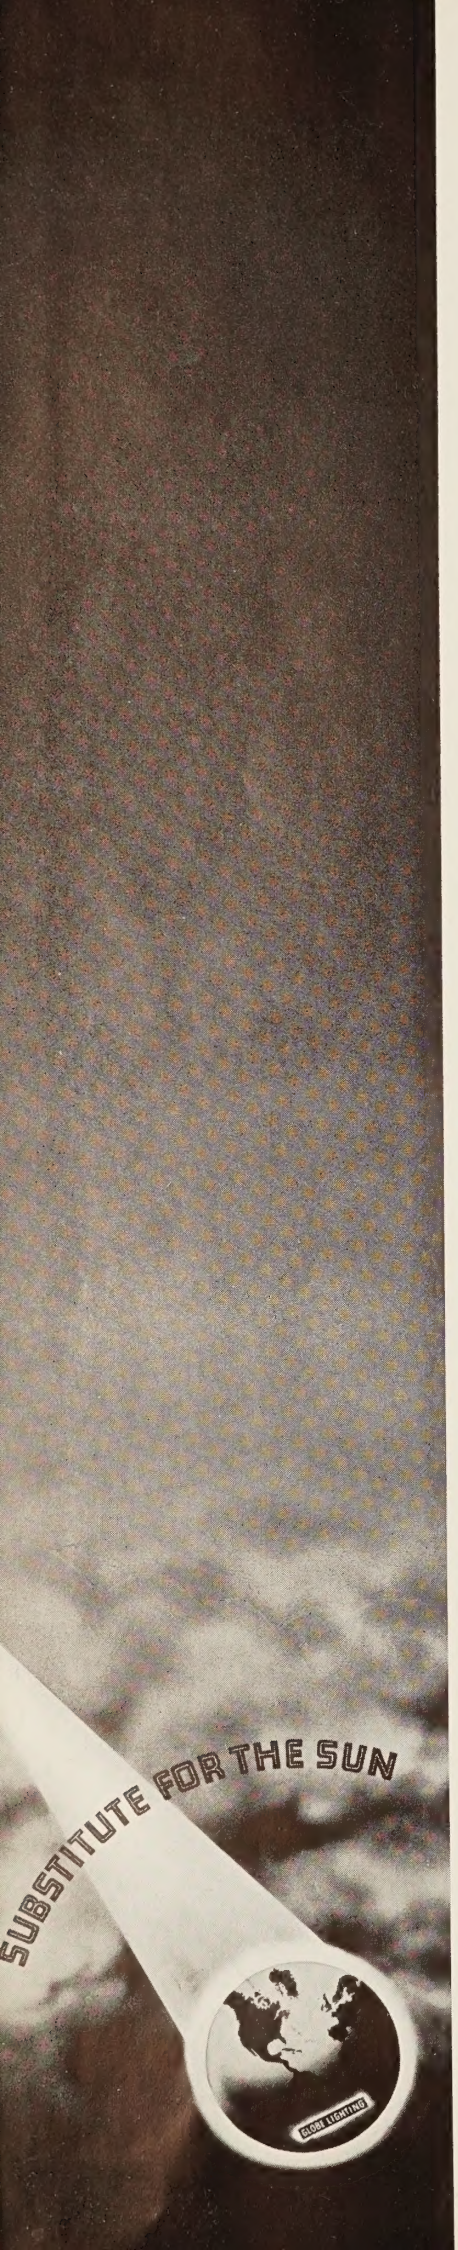
In Recognition of ARTISTRY . . .

This catalog is dedicated to those inspired designers and skilled artisans who have, in turn, dedicated themselves to the earnest task of producing the highest type of lighting fixtures their craftsmanship and experience could offer.

CATALOG NUMBER SIXTEEN





Heralding an Impressive Advance in Lighting Fixture Design . . .

EVERY one of the hundreds of models shown in this new Globe catalog was conceived and developed by Globe's master designers and lighting technicians.

Point by point, from rough sketch to working model, each Globe design must pass a critical jury of lighting fixture experts. These men ask three simple questions: Is it decorative? Is it authentic? Is it practical?

No lighting fixture qualifies for the Globe line until it meets every part of this exacting test.

Nevertheless, Globe lighting fixtures are moderate in price. Economies resulting from advanced, improved manufacturing methods permit unsurpassed quality and craftsmanship and styling, at values that are beyond competition.

Today, the increasing demand is for complete authenticity in every detail of lighting fixture design — period or modern. Homeowners welcome its enhancement of the beauty of their rooms. That is why the Globe policy of correct, decorative design is doubly important to every phase of lighting fixture activity.

Moreover, the ultimate user has the added satisfaction of finding in Globe lighting fixtures the most approved principles of modern illumination efficiency.

The Place of Modern Lighting In the Home . . .

PROPER lighting is not a matter of utility alone, but of beauty. The smart hostess knows it is an essential element in her home's decoration, as important as her draperies and furniture. Perhaps more important. For well planned lighting will focus attention wherever desired; its flexibility permits an infinite variety of effects. But it must do this without attracting attention to itself. Thus, the source of the light — the lighting fixture — requires very careful selection. Globe technicians and designers bring unmatched experience and knowledge to this problem, a fact which accounts for Globe's supremacy in the lighting fixture world.

Moreover, Globe period and modern designs are not too sharply characteristic. They can be used with equal success in many types of decoration.

The Globe fixtures in this catalog can be selected with confidence that their quality and construction are unsurpassed, that they are authentic in design, perfect in lighting efficiency and exceptional in value.

• The Matchless Distinction of FRENCH CRYSTAL . . .

The French have always believed in the "joy of living." That is why they enriched their lighting fixtures with the elegance of crystal. Today, French Crystal is an established vogue, cherished for its radiant beauty, for its ability to key a room in a mood of gayety. The spirit of the French originals is perfectly expressed in the use of finest quality crystals in Globe lighting fixtures.

A typical example of Globe's versatility in the use of crystal ornaments. The dainty glass base creates a charming ensemble. In Nos. 0243 and 0245, the center column also is clear reeded glass tubing. Finish: French Gold or Chromium.

The Regis Pattern

Regal in conception, masterly in execution is this group of magnificent lighting fixtures. Diffuses the light with brilliant radiance worthy of the most festive occasion. No. 675 is a five-light fixture with five rows of glittering pendants. No. 676 has four rows, and No. 674 has three rows. For value, the "Regis" is unsurpassed within its price range. Finish: Polished Silver and Black.

Modern Expressions of our Early-American Heritage

We Americans hold Early American decoration in high affection. And rightly. Our Colonial forebears imbued their handiwork with an integrity and beautiful simplicity that endures time's test. This heritage has been developed in many decorative ways, notably in lighting fixtures. Globe has styled the following patterns in the finest traditions of Early American design.

Rich in eye-appeal and smartly proportioned, the "Potomac" has gained wide acceptance in America's best homes and shops. It resembles the "Federal" pattern, with the exception of its arrow motif. Finished in Colonial Brass, Antique Bronze or Pewter. The Lumite Frosted glass shades give soft, glareless illumination.

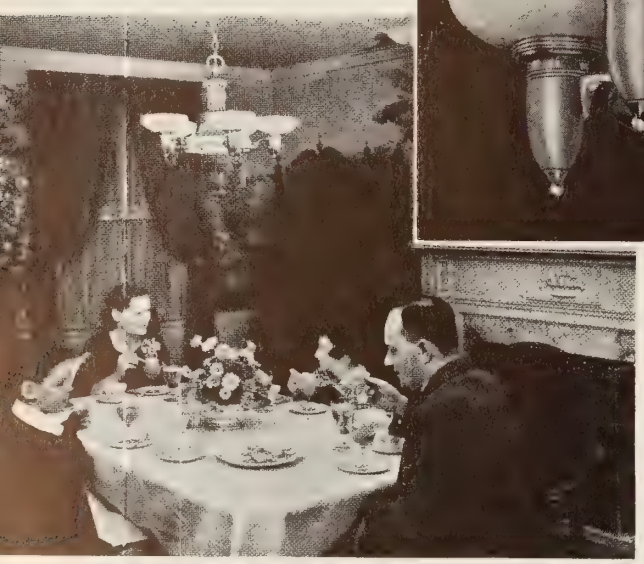
The Globe Lighting Control Fixture

Efficiency and Comfort for Study and Reading

The Globe Lighting Control Fixture permits the performance of these tasks without unnecessary strain to eyes or nervous system. With the use of the efficient center light spreading an even light downward over the working area making study possible under the most comfortable conditions.

In The Directoire Pattern



Adds to the delight of dining. With the downward light beaming directly upon the table and the five outside lights illuminating the entire room, the family dines in perfectly lighted surroundings.

For illumination of the entire room the lighting control feature of this superb fixture presents unsurpassed general illumination. With all lights open there is an assurance of glareless, comfortable illumination. It creates no dark areas nor excessively bright spots. It saves the eyes from unnecessary strain.

1 . . . First Turn, for table reflector only.
2 . . . Two Turns, outer lights plus table reflector.
3 . . . Three Turns, outer lights only.
4 . . . Four Turns, all lights out.

Length 40" • Spread Overall 20"

This four-way control feature provides the most desirable type of illumination—in both diffused and in reflected light. In the center is a diffusing glass of flashed opal which diffuses the light from a 100 or 150 watt Mazda lamp. This fixture, equipped with a porcelain socket is controlled by a 4-way action switch at the side of the fixture. There are five outside lights encased in high quality cased glass of a straw-tinted texture employing 25 or 40 watt lamps to provide a rich mellow light entirely free from glare. The Fixture is finished in English Bronze and Chromium.

The Mount Vernon Pattern

Combines the flexibility of three different types of lighting for the dining room, in a design that is slender and lovely. Four-way action switch controls five outside lights. The center piece is flashed opal glass which diffuses the light of a 100 or 150 watt lamp, controlled by same switch. Light is therefore directed downward on dining room table or upward for general illumination—separately, or together, as desired. Outside lights (25 or 40 watt lamps) are richly encased in high quality MONAX white glass shades for soft, glare-free light. Handsomely finished in Bronze and Chromium. Length 40" Spread 21".

Rare Beauty in GLASS SHADED Lighting...

Globe has achieved miracles in the design of glass shaded lighting fixtures. In striking contrast to the clumsy, heavy treatment of the old style glass shades, note the delicacy and grace of the numerous patterns shown in the following pages. Those who prefer this type of fixture will find the Globe selection a pure delight. Many are derived from 19th Century French Baroque, styled with classic distinction, and tinted for warm, restful lighting effects.
